

(Educational) Psychologist/ Special Education Generalist for a 0,6 FTE
Position as Temporary sick replacement

In this role, you will support students and parents by identifying their needs through intake, follow-up, and evaluation meetings. You will formulate support plans and individual educational plans, as well as seek or develop appropriate tools and resources for both the students and the teachers. Coaching students in their social and/or emotional development, particularly in relation to school performance, will be a key aspect of your role. Depending on the difficulties at hand, you will also develop and provide tailored training. Additionally, you will liaise with parents/guardians, external parties and participate in various consultations. You will collect information about (potential) SEN students that need to be discussed in the Zorg Advies Team meetings and you will chair these meetings and coordinate the support advice given in these meetings for our students and with the parents.

In supporting the teams, you will translate questions into concrete advice. You will share insights into trends you identify and advise on additional specialized support when necessary. Acting as a coach and advisor, you will assist teachers in implementing inclusive education practices and provide broad-ranging advice on student functioning. By offering workshops, and individual guidance on teaching approaches, and organizing training sessions, you will contribute to the professional development of teachers. You will also contribute to annual plans and reports related to the guidance process and ensure effective monitoring and planning.
